"A hungry God..." (Part 1) ^{4:1} Then Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness¹ to be tempted by the devil. ^{4:2} After he fasted forty days and forty nights he was famished.² ^{4:3} The tempter came and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become bread."³ ^{4:4} But he answered,⁴ "It is written, 'Man⁵ does not live⁶ by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God.'" - Matthew 4:1-4

Dear Friends:

Below is an entry from my journal. It is a tough read. Please know that when I share this I am sharing a piece of my soul. Please handle with care. God Bless.

This past spring, I shared with the congregation in one of my sermons about my eating disorder. It was tough for me to do, but I had to because I believe that when you can speak to a disorder, you take its power away. Eating disorders are a grave thing. They can lead to malnutrition, morbid obesity, diabetes, and even early death.

As a people, we are consumed with vanity. We crave the approval of others and desire to be beautiful. Our image maker in our mind is broken. We see too many air-brushed images of celebrities. "Oh, if I could just look like him or her." We try everything, diet, exercise, pills, and nothing changes. We binge and starve ourselves to the point of becoming bulimic and anorexic. We terrorize our bodies because we don't know what we are missing. We can't see the disease of the "yo-yo diet." Every time we look in the mirror, we become more disgusted with what we see. We see a sagging stomach and stretch marks. We see the scars of surgeries past and wonder how anyone could love this body. So we hide in shame in oversized clothes and go on about our lives, thinking nothing will change.

We assume that if we don't like our body that God must not like us either. So what's the point of a relationship with God?

All of what I have shared so far are parts of my story. They are the gut-wrenching honest to God truth. If we can't be comfortable with our bodies, how could we be satisfied with a God who made, formed, and created us to be in the image of God? How we see ourselves matters. How God sees us matters. If we can't look in the mirror and say, "this is my body...then how can we appreciate the meal of Holy Communion in which we are asked to feast on Christ's body and blood."

Each of us has a story to tell—a story of pain, suffering, and anxiety. Traumas from the past haunt us when not dealt with and shape our very being. We react to trauma in ways that we could not possibly imagine. We do and say things that we know aren't right. We are, in a sense struggling against the traumatic experience that has driven us to abuse our bodies. Depression is anger turned inward. We can not face trauma, depression, and other mental disorders with just prayer. It takes the skilled teamwork of physicians, therapists, and God to help break the cycles of generational trauma.

I have known the shame of being "fat". I have been called names, teased, and laughed at behind my back. As an adult, I have felt the embarrassment of struggling to fit in an airplane seat or accidentally breaking a chair. I have been ridiculed in the workplace and made to feel inferior. It's time for me to take back the power. It's time for me to do more than I am to change this course and direction. It's time for me to get serious about loving myself as much as I love to eat fast food. It's time to become comfortable in my skin. Jesus knew what it was to be tempted. He was tempted in the wilderness to feed his flesh, but yet he resisted. It wasn't easy, but Jesus knew everything hung on these moments. Today, I want to challenge you to stand in front of a full-body mirror and just look, don't judge. Invite God into that space and seek the counsel and the wisdom of God. Remember, you are a human being; cut yourself some slack. It's going to take time to retrain your brain.

I want you to know that you are not in this alone. I am here for you and will be praying for you daily. Please call me at 716-485-6246 or come to the office and visit me. I would be honored to share my story with you. Remember, God, hungers for a relationship with you. God desires for a faithful expression of his grace in your life.

In Jesus Name,

Rev. Daniel J. Bradley

SCRIPTURE OF THE MONTH - OCTOBER - "THE NIGHT SKY"

"When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars that you have established; what are human beings that you are mindful of them, mortals that you care for them?"

- Psalm 8:3-4

October

The month of September flew by so quickly, I don't have much to report on other than things are going well. I have a couple of things in the works for October, I've already been invited to a Halloween party and my husband, Kyle has time off from work so we will finish up any last minute projects around the house before winter. We completed our front porch and back deck, changed out some old wood and added railings, next spring/summer we will finish by staining them. I'm excited to check out Tim's Pumpkin Patch, go apple picking and maybe go to a haunted house or hayride if they are back to fully operating all the fun fall festivities! Stay safe and enjoy the month!

Recipe by: Courtney

NATIONAL APPLE MONTH

INGREDIENTS

Cake Ingredients

- ♦ 1/3 cup brown sugar
- ♦ 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ♦ 2/3 cup granulated sugar
- ♦ 1 stick unsalted butter
- ♦ 2 eggs
- ♦ 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- ♦ 1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
- ♦ 1 3/4 teaspoons baking powder
- ♦ 1/2 cup buttermilk
- ♦ 2 granny smith apples grated
- ♦ 1/2 cup walnuts crushed

Glaze Ingredients

- ♦ 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- ♦ 3 tablespoons heavy cream
- ♦ 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat your oven to 350 degrees F.
2. Prepare an 8x8 baking pan with nonstick spray or you can line with parchment or foil then spray. The lined pans are easiest to remove.
3. In a small bowl, combine the sugar and cinnamon. Set aside.
4. In a large bowl, combine the granulated sugar, butter, and then add in the vanilla extract, buttermilk, and eggs one at a time until combined.
5. Mix the baking powder with flour and then fold the wet mix with the dry mix.
6. Grate the apples and fold into the batter.
7. Pour the batter into the prepared baking pan.
8. Sprinkle the brown sugar and cinnamon mixture on top of the cake batter and then swirl it throughout the batter using a butter knife.
9. Top the cake with the walnuts and bake for 40-50 minutes.
10. While the cake is cooking combine the heavy cream and powdered sugar to make the glaze.
11. Remove the cake from the oven and then drizzle with the glaze.
12. Slice and serve as desired. Apple fritter breakfast cake is the perfect fall cake to serve with breakfast, brunch or even as dessert, and it goes perfectly with a cup of coffee! Enjoy!

Ronald McDonald House Charities®
Central New York

The history of the CNY Ronald McDonald House is rooted in caring for families with children treated at the Center for Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders at Upstate Hospital. Over four decades ago, a group of cancer patients' parents saw the need for a Ronald McDonald House in Syracuse.

Families traveling from outside of the Syracuse area for specialized treatment were often found sleeping in the waiting areas or in their cars so they could be near their seriously ill children.

In the mid-1970s, the Children's Special Needs Fund was formed by doctors and parents to fund a playroom at the 5C pediatric oncology clinic and to help out-of-town families with housing and food.

In the early 1980s, the Children's Special Needs Fund and Ronald McDonald House joined forces under the umbrella of the "CNY Ronald McDonald House." During the renovation and construction of the first CNY Ronald McDonald House, volunteers from the Children's Special Needs Fund, who were also parents of cancer patients, led a grassroots fundraising effort and were vital to the core mission of the new house.

On Thanksgiving Day in 1982, the original CNY Ronald McDonald House opened its doors at 1027 E. Genesee Street and welcomed its first guests from the Center for Children's Cancer and Blood Disorders. The house continued to financially support the 5C clinic and the child life specialist at the 7H hematology/oncology in-patient unit by providing more than $1 million in program funding in the years that followed. Today, families with seriously ill children continue to travel to Syracuse for medical care, and when they do, we are here for them thanks to the compassion, generosity and kindness of a special group of concerned parents from years past.
