"Expecting the unexpected guest..."

"See what kind of love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God; and so, we are. The reason why the world does not know us is that ¹it did not know him. ²Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears, we shall be like him because we shall see him as he is. ³And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure."
- 1 John 3:1-2

It goes without saying that Faith Journey United Methodist Church is an inclusive church. We have all kinds of people in the church, and they all make up a tapestry of faith in God. We may not always agree about everything, but the one constant that we hang our hats on is that Jesus is Lord. That is the common thread that pulls us together in the sacraments of Baptism and Holy Communion. This is grace, not that we loved God, but that God loved us and sent Jesus into this world to redeem us from the law of sin and death.

Not too long ago, I was not an inclusive person. I understood scripture and theology to be exclusive as opposed to inclusive of all persons. I have never been so wrong. It took getting out of my comfort zone and hanging out with people that were different than me, and seeing God's grace in and through them to realize my own fallacies. I am not a perfect person, nor have I arrived at a fully sanctified state. I am human, and I make many mistakes. I thank God that God gives me the grace to make amends with those I hurt and repair relationships. In some cases, throughout my life, making amends has not been possible on this side of heaven. For that, my heart is grieved, but I trust in God that in the twinkling of an eye and the blink of death turning into new life, all will be set right.

I just finished reading an incredible book about life and faith. It is entitled, On Our Best Behavior: the Seven Deadly Sins and the Price Women Pay to be Good. The book by Elise Loehnen, while written primarily for women, is very instructional for men. If you are a man reading this article, I encourage you to get a copy and read it for yourself and fully understand the culture of patriarchy and the damage it has done to women in this world. Loehnen writes of faith, "Faith revolves around an attachment that there is something bigger than my [our] existence." For me, that is God and the reality that I am not in charge of this world. There is nothing that is in my control except for how I respond in the face of injustice, oppression, and chaos. This is the cry of the Christian faith. How we respond and how people see us tells a story about the God that we praise on Sunday morning.

Is God an angry God? A loving God? A God of exclusion or inclusion?
Are all welcome to find God in whatever form they present themselves?

The greatest sin humanity commits; is reveling in one's vanity. This world is not about us or our needs. It is a love story of the God of the universe pouring out God's blessings on an imperfect world. Thank God for grace and the depths of grace that are unknown. Thank God that God does not hold my sins which are great against me. We must be a people of grace, compassion, and mercy—slow to anger and full of love. If we want the world to know what we know, then we must face the reality that we have an imperfect church run by imperfect people, all needing the grace of God.

At times I can be arrogant and self-centered. I can be the center of my own universe and think that the sun, moon, and stars revolve around me. I can judge people harshly—particularly other clergy and have the impotence to want to correct their perceived errors. This is not helpful or grace-filled behavior; it is a sin. The second I judge someone by my standards, that standard is applied to me. How can I judge someone's behaviors harshly when I am committing the same perceived sins?

The multitude of errors and sins that I have committed leave me wondering if God can love me. The answer to that question is that God loves you and me no more or less than God does today. God gave this gift in Jesus that we might have the fullness of life and the faith to move mountains. Right now, I've got mountains to move and very little faith. What is the essence of faith? "Faith revolves around an attachment that there is something bigger than my [our] existence." That is the key. All of the stuff that we think is important really isn't; if we don't grasp a larger view of the world and all of its splendor, then we will have missed the point of God drawing near when we were far away.

Each week we open the doors of the church to people from all walks of life. There is no litmus test to come to Faith Journey United Methodist Church. There is no magic handshake or creed that must be recited before entering the sanctuary. There is only a desire to meet God on God's terms and not our own. This thing called faith needs to be exercised each time we greet one another in grace and thanksgiving, knowing that God is working things out.

Faith is touching God through our brokenness, pain, and sin, holding on to the hands of Jesus. It is my hope that as we greet people, we look not to the differences but to the grace and faith that binds us together.

"Beloved, we are God's children now, and what we will be has not yet appeared; but we know that when he appears, we shall be like him because we shall see him as he is."³ And everyone who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure." —1 John 3:2

Letter From the Trustees:

We are so excited to share that our beautiful church is finally getting a well-deserved facelift. On July 2, 2023, the sanctuary will be closed off so that things can begin. We are asking that anyone who would like to help begin cleaning out of spaces to come to the church at 4:30 on Wednesday, July 5th for pizza, drinks and lots of stuff to move. Here is a timeline of what will be happening over the summer:

July 5: 4:30-7:30 - cleaning out closets in the sanctuary, cleaning out toys from playroom (nursery) and getting the narthex and conference rooms ready to take on pews.

Between July 5 - 15 - move pews out of sanctuary and ensure walls are cleared for painters (hired)

Sometime between July 17 - July 31: Sanctuary will be painted. We are investigating new lighting which we hope will be installed over the summer (by us).

Early August: Stairwell walls and trim will be repainted (by us)

The week of August 21 - 27: Sanctuary, playroom (nursery) and stairs will be re-carpeted (hired)

Between August 27 - September 10 - pews will be reinstalled (us), lighting will hopefully be updated and pews & chairs will be cleaned and sanitized (hired); the playroom (nursery) will be reassembled (us).

This is a huge undertaking and has been in the works for years - we are so fortunate that because of proceeds from the sale of the Morgan Rd. parsonage and generous gifts from the memorial committee and Chicken BBQ team that this can be done at this time.

You may be asking, 'what about the narthex'? This will be phase 2 of the redesign process and will likely happen in 2024.

There will be times over the summer that we could use extra hands so stay tuned to your email.

Thank you. The Trustees

HAPPY 4TH OF JULY

SCRIPTURE OF THE MONTH - JULY - "BEAUTIFUL VESSELS"

"Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, 'Let anyone who is thirsty come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as Scripture has said, rivers of living water will flow from within them.' By this he meant the Spirit." - John 7:37-39

July

It's been a great summer so far! During the last week in June, my older Brother, Ryan and his family came to visit from North Carolina, it was really nice seeing them and I hope we are able to visit again come Thanksgiving or Christmas time. I wish the weather was a little nicer during their stay, since it was rainy and we are still experiencing air quality problems from the Canadian Wildfires, but it was a pleasant and joyful visit nonetheless! There's so much planned in July at Faith Journey and the C&B building. I am excited to see all the updates and improvements around the Church, it's super awesome that we have the resources and funds to give the sanctuary a well-deserved renovation. I know there's a lot of work to be done and items to be moved (as detailed in the Trustees Letter), so I'm hoping to contribute and help out in anyway that I can!

Blueberry Surprise

"Blueberry surprise is what summer dreams are made of. A tart homemade blueberry filling is sandwiched between layers of lightly sweetened, fluffy cream cheese and whipped cream, all on top of buttery cornmeal shortbread. Please try not to fight over it!"

Recipe by: Brooke Caison

<https://www.delish.com/cooking/recipe-ideas/a40010925/blueberry->

July is National Blueberry
Month!

INGREDIENTS

CRUST:

- 6 oz. cold butter, cut into 1" pieces, plus more for pan
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup cornmeal
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 2/3 cup powdered sugar
- 1/4 cup toasted, chopped almonds

BLUEBERRY FILLING:

- 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 lb. fresh or frozen blueberries, thawed
- 1/4 cup powdered sugar

WHIPPED CREAM TOPPING:

- 1 1/2 heavy cream
- 1/4 powdered sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch

CREAM CHEESE FILLING:

- 8 oz. cream cheese, room temperature
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoon sour cream
- 2 tablespoon toasted, chopped almonds

DIRECTIONS

SHORTBREAD CRUST:

1. Preheat oven to 325 and grease bottom and sides of a 10" springform pan with butter. Line sides of pan with a 30" by 2" strip of parchment paper.
2. In a large bowl, whisk flour, cornmeal, and salt. Use a hand mixer or stand mixer fitted with paddle attachment on medium speed, beat butter and powdered sugar, scraping down sides of bowl, until butter pieces are no longer visible and mixture is smooth, 4 to 5 minutes.
3. Scrape sides of bowl, reduce mixer speed and add in dry ingredients; mix just to combine. Add almonds and mix just to combine.
4. Transfer dough to prepared pan. Working quickly as to not melt butter in dough, press evenly onto bottom of pan. Bake until edges are golden brown, about 20 minutes, then transfer pan to a wire rack and let cool.

BLUEBERRY FILLING:

1. In a small saucepan, whisk lemon juice, water, and cornstarch to combine. Add blueberries and powdered sugar. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture is saucy but blueberries are still mostly whole, about 8 minutes.
2. Pour into a shallow heatproof container and chill in refrigerator until cold, about 30 minutes.

WHIPPED CREAM TOPPING:

1. In stand mixer fitted with whisk attachment on medium speed, or with hand mixer, whip the cream, powdered sugar, and cornstarch until stiff peaks form, 1 to 2 minutes. Transfer to a medium bowl from mixer.

BLUEBERRY FILLING:

1. In stand mixer or with hand mixer on medium speed, beat cream cheese, powdered sugar, and sour cream until combined and fluffy, about 30 seconds. Fold one-half of whipped cream into cream cheese mixture. Chill until ready to use.
2. Once crust and blueberry filling have completely cooled, spread cream cheese mixture on crust, spreading to edges. Spoon blueberry filling over cream cheese mixture. Top with remaining whipped cream; sprinkle with almonds, wrap entire pan with plastic wrap and chill for at least 4 hours before serving.

Recipe notes:

- The crust is essentially a shortbread crust with a little added razzle-dazzle from the chopped almonds and cornmeal, but it can also be made with traditional graham cracker crust or a Biscoff cookie crust.
- When it comes to variations on this recipe, the sky's the limit! Other great combos include pitted cherries + lime juice, raspberries + orange juice, and blackberries + passion fruit juice.
- Blueberry surprise will keep in the refrigerator for up to 5 days, wrap the entire springform pan in plastic to keep the layers intact.

Yields: 12 servings
